

THE WHARF AT THE BUTCHART GARDENS

The wharf is open year-round, except from November 26th to January 6th.

In the summer, staff will be present to take your admission. If for some reason staff is not present, please press the intercom button on the locked Gate and an attendant will speak to you.

Due to limited space, we only permit dinghies to tie up to our wharf. We ask larger vessels to anchor adjacent to the cove and use their tenders to access the wharf. A clear fairway through which float planes can access the dinghy dock must be maintained at all times. Please contact us if you have any questions, 250-652-4422.

We do not permit overnight moorage on our wharf and ask all dinghies be gone from our wharf at the time of The Gardens closing.

Visitors are welcome to tie up overnight (24 hour maximum stay) to one of our five buoys in Butchart Cove (one for boats less than 18' and the others for less than 40') available at no charge on a first-come, first-served basis. Stern ties are mandatory.

We ask boaters be familiar with local tide-tables, and please be aware the west side of Butchart Cove can become very shallow at low tide.

Many boaters drop anchor in nearby Tod Inlet, which is an excellent all weather anchorage for many vessels (3 fathom depth at low water). There are other safe anchoring locations nearby, some of which might require a stern tie depending on the number of vessels in the area. We do not recommend anchorage in the entrance fairway to Tod Inlet, with or without a stern tie, as the passage is narrow and the water relatively shallow. It is not unusual for afternoon warming to create local gusting winds that funnel down the fairway causing vessels to drag anchor and swing around on their stern lines.

To visit Butchart Gardens, from Tod Inlet, dinghy over to their wharf in Butchart Cove or go to the BC Parks wharf in Tod Inlet and walk about 15 minutes up to The Gardens Admission Gate located up the hill on Benvenuto Avenue past the vehicle exit.
